

300 S I will definitely Leave You by then we let's look at the transcripts for this first the transcript is in forestry trade flows case tracking Master input oh no no no by the date added you should be able to see this open with preview and when you open with preview you should be able to talk then what and it sometimes happens maybe it happens because my computer is running super slowly right okay I'm super excited by the keywords Revelation surprised and Milestone well it makes sense it makes sense I think that these are the things we were saying I'll show you this is that my professor I want you to know how good my professor is his name is sort of a mean I want everybody to respect him so much because look at the number of comments he left on my jaw I'm just going to slowly like I'm just going to quickly scroll through this to allow you to see it like this details about how I compared the wood trade across different data sets and use the translation of a particular type of wood to the same type of wood that is represented in another way in another dataset so he really cares about these numbers and he was like good so it's funny I'm grateful for your meticulousness and answer my questions and provide who like honestly is so good so he can even hear it I'm like what and then he said okay then you can do this it's like he's having a conversation with me and he's like okay I mean he doesn't expect