

okay so something weird just happened when I tried to record using my airport for 300 S it keeps terminating after about a minute I have a hypothesis that the conversion factor used actually different with the microphone input cord for 1,000 seconds and anticipate that it'll probably actually record for about 3 to 5 minutes so we can see how the hypothesis she has a thesis that is a solid hundred pages and this person my PhD students had that was also in the same and it was